Appoints Dr. Lloyd Graduate Dean

Dean of Students Transfers to New Position on April 4

Appointment of Dr. Wesley P. Lloyd, dean of students of the Brigham Young University as dean of the Graduate School was announced Wednesday by President Ernest L. Johnson.

THE APPOINTMENT will be effective 14. Dr. Lloyd succeeds the late Dr. A. H. Pond, who died last April. Since that time, Dr. George H. Hansen, professor of psychology and geography, and Dr. Stewart L. Johnson, professor of history and political science, have served as acting deans of the Graduate School.

Taking over the Graduate School in a period of great emphasis is being placed on academic achievement at BYU, Dr. Lloyd has said. "To accelerate the development of the Graduate School to take its place with the great schools of the country."

CONTINUING his remarks the new graduate dean said, "There is a great need for emphasis in graduate work in the human, physical and social sciences to match the progress in the natural sciences."

There will be a great responsibility on the Graduate School to maintain the balance between the academic and the social influences upon the student.

THE UNIVERSITY instituted a doctoral program in 1958. It includes doctorates in 11 departments. BYU also grants in regular academic programs a master's degree in all of the departments and the master's degree in practically all of the departments.

When taking over his responsibilities he said, "I have full confidence that the major activities being administered by the dean of students office will be maintained as the result of a change in personnel."

Dr. Lloyd joined the staff of BYU in 1937 as chairman of the Department of Philosophy and dean of men. He previously received his S.B.S. degrees from BYU and D. from University of Chicago.

He became dean of students in 1944. Improvement of academic standards at BYU is one of the major efforts in which Dr. Lloyd has devoted his greatest efforts. Some of the projects and programs he has come into being during his administration as dean include: counseling office, office of student health, full time student health service, full time campus security.

DEAN WESLEY P. LLOYD will be changing desks in early April when he becomes dean of the Graduate School. Dean Lloyd is now functioning as BYU's Dean of Students.

Ticket Pushers Set No 'Time Limit'

"Tickets are still available at the Smith Bldg. ticket office for the three-act drama 'Time Limit'."

THE PLAY by Denker and Denker opens Wednesday in the Smith Auditorium and tells the story of enemy torture and the limits of human endurance. It takes place at an army post in the United States and a Korean prisoner of war camp.

There are still many tickets for "choice" seats for any night, according to the ticket office. There is especially good seating on the sides and in the center back.

ANY STUDENT who wishes to get tickets for "Time Limit" should bring his activity card to the ticket office. All tickets are for reserved seats.

In the play the actual situation in the Communist camp in Korea is revealed through flashbacks, and the colonel's son is shown to be an informer. The other prisoners had drawn lots to decide who should kill the informer. The major had to "turn color" to save his men from further punishment and crimes.

The colonel's interrogation of the major's wife gives a new and terrifying picture of what happens when an American youth falls into the hands of modern Communist captors.

Ike Seeks Firmer Ties In South of Border Area

WASHINGTON, March 9.—(UPI)—President Eisenhower told the nation last night that U. S. relations with Latin America are at an "all-time high" but conceded there are some "serious misunderstandings."

In a 15-minute radio-TV report on his 10-day trip to Brazil, Argentina, Chile and Uruguay, Eisenhower declared that "no other area of the world is of more vital significance to our future" than Latin America.

HE SAID "AN even firmer partnership" with the nations south of the border must be the U. S. goal.

The Chief Executive underlined this by inviting all the Latin American ambassadors here to a White House luncheon today.

Other guests included State Department officials and officers of various inter-American agencies.

SECRETARY of State Christian A. Herter, who accompanied Eisenhower on the South American trip, was expected to give his impressions at a news conference. He also was certain to be questioned about deteriorating U. S.-Cuban relations.

Eisenhower reported that he found in South America "a vast reservoir of respect, admiration and affection for the United States of America."

THE CHIEF Executive said he assured his Latin American hosts "most earnestly" that the United States wanted them to succeed in raising their living standards.

The President said he discovered "serious misunderstandings" of this country in Latin America. And, he said, U. S. citizens are not as well informed as they should be about their neighbors to the South.

India Squirms As Reds Claim 'A-Bomb' Tale

NEW DELHI, March 9.—(UPI)—India announced today that Communist China had taken over 12,000 square miles of Indian-claimed border territory but had made no recent advances into Indian territory.

The disclosure of the extent of the encroachment followed a claim by a member of parliament that Communist China would explode an a-bomb this month. A Soviet diplomat labeled the claim a "fairy tale."

PRIME MINISTER Jawaharlal Nehru's parliamentary secretary, Sardar All Khan, told parliament that "the area broadly covered by Chinese army posts is about 12,000 square miles."

It was believed to be the first official announcement on the extent of Chinese encroachment, which has sent Sing Indian relations to an all-time low and caused India to increase its defense budget.

But Nehru told the legislators that the Communists have made no new advances into Indian-claimed territory during the past seven to eight months.

Coeds, Men Tell Varied Date Views

by Hower J. Hala

University Staff Writer

You men may be interested to know what the foreign girls think of you. An English girl thinks you're "very impolite," a French lass has a long time to tell about you, a Finnish girl says you're "nice," but definitely not "sentimental or romantic," a Japanese miss says she "likes you very much," and a Latin senorita thinks you're "less jealous, therefore less loyal" than boys in her country; and a Chinese girl feels that boy-girl affairs "should not be discussed in public."

SOME COMMENTS made by foreign girls are quite favorable but a few are not. But what do your own girls—American girls—think of you?

One thinks you're a little "crude," and another says "it all depends."

A Latin-American miss, Maria Emilia Salazar, 22, of Puerto Rico has this to say about American men:

"MY BOYFRIEND is an American. They're generally very nice and they don't get mad at all. The boys back home are very nice too, but they are very jealous and demand loyalty from girls. They can get very angry if their girl friends have other boy friends."

When quizzed about the art of kissing, a Finnish girl answered, "It's not a matter of the times, it is a matter of feelings. American men sometimes lack genuine emotion but they just think they should kiss."

American girls swapped places for a moment to talk about foreign men students.

"I DON'T DRAW distinction between American and foreign men students," said one girl. "I think the only distinction is language, although American boys are very crude."

"I find them extremely polite and refined and it is interesting to know them. I've known a number of students from Iran, Germany, Ceylon, Turkey, Austria, India and Norway," said a Yankee girl majoring in political science.

"I HAD A DATE with a foreign boy once, but he didn't open the car door for me as the American boys usually do. I think foreign students should come here to promote better understanding. As far as dating is concerned, I have to know any boy quite well before I'll accept a date," said one northern California girl.

The question was switched to American girls. One student found them "quite entertaining, sociable and understanding." Another found them "conceited and always trying to outsmart men, and lacking in femininity."

"Of course it depends on the individual girl and your taste in girls. A lot of them are quite nice and they know as much as men do—if not more!"

"I'D SAY they lack individuality and personality," said one discouraged male. "They all have the same hair-do, wear the same skirt, have the same taste for hamburgers and root beer. If you know one of them, you know the whole lot of them! I just can't understand why they are so afraid of being different," an accounting student said.

'A' Tourney Shifts Scene Today

The scene of action for the southern bracket of the Utah high school Class A tournament shifts to Salt Lake City and the University of Utah fieldhouse Wednesday.

TUESDAY's opening round at Brigham Young University's George Albert Smith Fieldhouse went about as expected with most of the favorites winning in easy fashion.

The Carbon Dinos completely outclassed Murray in the opener, 65-53.

TOURNEY RESULTS

At BYU
Carbon 55, Murray 53
South 52, Orem 47
Bingham 62, Salt 56
Jordan 59, Spanish Fork 50

At Weber High
Olympus 64, Ogden 55
Davis 64, North Cache 37
Logan 50, Bountiful 54
Bear River 46, Granite 43

IN THE OTHER contests, South bested Orem, 62-47, Bingham downed East, 68-56, and Jordan beat Spanish Fork, 59-60.

In the northern bracket of the tourney, which was played at Weber High School in Ogden, the Olympus Titans defeated Ogden, 66-58. Davis wallopped North Cache, 64-27. Logan tripped Bountiful, 60-54, and Bear River edged Granite, 56-43, in the closest contest of the day.

Here are the pairings for Wednesday:

Utah Fieldhouse
4 p.m.—East vs. Spanish Fork
5:30 p.m.—Bingham vs. Jordan
7 p.m.—Murray vs. Orem
8:20 p.m.—Carbon vs. South

Weber High
4 p.m.—Bountiful vs. Granite
5:30 p.m.—Logan vs. Bear River
7 p.m.—Ogden vs. North Cache
8:20 p.m.—Olympus vs. Davis

THREE OF the four games at BYU were so well-decided early in the contest that they caused little excitement.

Carbon led Murray, 65-43, with five minutes remaining and then exploded for another 20 points in the final five with the subs doing most of the scoring.

DOUG POWELL, a 6'2" guard, paced the winners with 23 markers. Powell's scoring effort was the best of the day in the southern bracket.

The hot-shooting Carbon club averaged 72 points a game during the regular season.

SPANISH FORK provided some thrills when, after trailing as much as 15 points, the Dons

ATHLETIC ABE

Abraham Lincoln was one of the most athletic Presidents the United States ever had. In his youth, he was an outstanding wrestler of wide fame, an excellent swimmer, an accurate rifle shot, and a good horseman. But relatively unknown is the fact that Honest Abe was the best handball player of his time. Actual records exist proving him to be the handball champion of Sangamon County, when the game was still known under its old English title, "the game of fives."

caught up with Jordan at 46-46 with 3:40 remaining. The score was knotted again at 48-48 with just 2:58 left but that was the end of the Spanish Fork crew's bid for the victory.

A big factor in the final outcome of this one was the fine floor play of Jordan's 5'7" guard Chuck Tebbes who also led his club in scoring with 16 points.

TEBBES, ONLY a junior, is the brother of former BYU little all America, Terry Tebbes. Chuck looks and plays very much like Terry.

The southern bracket will turn to BYU Friday with 11 more games.

TOP SCORERS Tuesday: BYU were Doug Powell, Carl with 23 points; Dave Erick Bingham, with 22; George St. Bingham, 20; and Martin Ro. Spanish Fork, also with 20.
